

Titan National Scholar

2017-2018 Agreement of Understanding

Congratulations on qualifying as a Titan National Scholar! The Titan National Scholar program is designed to give high achieving students the opportunity to reduce costs of attendance by waiving the non-resident portion of tuition. This agreement of understanding is intended to clarify the program and to provide you with information on your responsibilities in order to continue receiving this award.

By signing this agreement, I understand the following components of the Titan National Scholar program.

- ✓ Full-time enrollment is required. Full-time enrollment is defined as a minimum of 12 credits each term. I understand the award is available for 12 to 18 undergraduate credits. I must maintain full-time status and attend consecutive terms. Credits over 18 will be billed to me based on residency status.
- ✓ Titan National Scholar award is not available for certain programs including, but not limited to, Study Abroad and Lifelong Learning and Community Engagement (LLCE). The cost of these programs are not based on residency and have different pricing structures than traditional programs.
- ✓ A minimum of 30 credits must be earned within one academic year to continue eligibility. One academic year is defined as fall term through summer term. For example, fall 2017, spring 2018, and summer 2018 is one academic year.
- ✓ Cumulative GPA of at least 2.5 is required at the start of the next academic year. For example, students receiving the award in fall 2017 must achieve a cumulative GPA of at least 2.5 by the start of fall 2018 term to remain eligible.
- ✓ Titan National Scholar is not a cash award. Tuition will be adjusted to in-state tuition rates. A refund based on Titan National Scholar award will never be issued to me if credits are dropped. **If I have other outside resources paying my tuition, Titan National Scholar may be reduced or cancelled.*
- ✓ Eligibility will continue until I reach 120 earned credits. Earned credits include credits earned at UW Oshkosh, test credits, transfer credits, etc. Earned credits will be evaluated at the start of the academic year. For example, a student receiving Titan National Scholar award for fall 2017 that has earned 115 credits, will qualify for Titan National Scholar for fall 2017 and spring 2018.
- ✓ Failure to meet the requirements will result in loss of eligibility for Titan National Scholar award for future terms.
